People talk much, perhaps too much. This includes myself. There is a lot to be said still, but much more has already been said by greater men than us that needs to be properly understood. We already have most of the words in pen, we must embody them in blood now. The time for intellectual discussion has passed, now is the time for action. Without action, all talk eventually ends in defeatism. It's procrastination on the grandest scale. This defeatist attitude manifests itself in our generation as being "blackpilled." People will generally fall into this trap from time to time, not unjustly so, but a handful will stay in that hole & begin seeking to rationalize their spiritual suicidal ideation.

I have made no attempt at obscuring my beliefs on here, I am an accelerationist, a White supremacist, a romantic idealist & want nothing less than total Aryan victory. The constant debate is whether or not we can win, whether the Collapse will ever come. Obviously, I believe it will based purely on the inorganic nature of modernity & the present geopolitical system. But I will put that aside for now & assume a scenario where this never happens. What does this mean for us? Is this how the Aryan race dies? Is this how it ends? Probably not.

Looking purely at the material realm, the only threats the White race really has is miscegenation & low birth rates. Miscegenation is massively over exaggerated, intentionally so. The fact is though, the vast majority of people (especially Whites) do not race mix. Humans have a substantial subconscious in-group bias that affects everything, including dating & marriage. It's also a fact that the Whites who do miscegenate are generally of low status - meaning we generally aren't losing much regardless. The other factor, low birth rates, is a much more grounded problem. Low fertility rates are generally caused by the modern economic & social environment that heavily disincentivizes having children & expects women to be workers in leu of mothers. Fortunately, this issue also affects non-White groups as well. Certain subgroups, like the Mormons or Amish, are also useful in their practices of having a lot of kids. Both of these groups are almost entirely White, regardless of any goofy religious beliefs.

So, what's that say? The White race will most likely never go away. We may lose power, we may shrink in size, we may even be oppressed by the System, but the extinction of the Aryan race is extremely unlikely. There will always be Aryans to carry the torch, but it will look very different from the past.

For one, the Aryans of this scenario will likely look a lot more like Jews in terms of their organization. The more disenfranchised they are, the more in-group bias they will have. This is why Irish & Italian groups had such a strong group identity in the US, because they weren't very well liked by the WASP establishment of the time. The arguments about systemic racism or other nonsense will no longer have any merit, so general pro-White attitudes won't meet as much vitriol as they do today.

A good quote I saw awhile back was something like "The entire world is Zimbabwe now, we're all Rhodesians." I think this is an accurate portrayal. The comparison to the Whites of Afrika is actually a good one, it shows what would happen if Whites left the world stage as a whole. The "competency crisis" would expand massively & there will huge deterioration of society will naturally follow. People have been talking about this for years already, so I won't rehash it. The point is, brownoids are incapable of building, or inheriting, a great civilization.

Another reason this is a good comparison is that we can look at the Afrikaners for what a true White minority looks like. Whites in Afrika may be completely disenfranchised & targeted by violence, but they show no signs of going away anytime soon. They are also leagues ahead of the native Negros around them to this day. An important note is that after witnessing the effects of kicking Whites out of the government & necessary industry (especially agriculture), the groid governments of Afrika have shifted to begging Whites to come back & work their magic of maintaining basic civilization. This will inevitably happen on the world scale as well.

Another interesting example of a White minority is in South Amerika. I won't speak to much on the actual truth of true Aryans in Latin Amerika, Sectionalism had a good post on that titled 'Latin American Genetics' you should read if you want to learn about that. On a purely anecdotal level, I have personally been to Buenos Aires as part of a military operation. The White population is very noticeably White, and clearly of predominantly Mediterranean descent in most cases. I also noticed that they tend to stick together. The true Aryans of Argentina form a sort of upper class of their own that has maintained a good gene pool. Argentina often falls into the same "melting pot" bullshit that gets thrown at Amerika, but this doesn't show in reality. Maybe in the lower class, visibly non-White population. This is likely what the Aryan people as a whole will look like if we lose in the future, a distinct upper class separated from the mongrel slave caste. Like Jews but cooler.

On a side note, I almost married a very pretty blonde while I was in Buenos Aires. Life circumstances prohibited me, what a shame :(

Finally, a look at the geographic aspect. It's well known that the Aryan homeland is far to the North. The only other ethnic group that can really deal with the north wind is a few asiatics, like the Eskimo or some "indigenous" Russian groups (idk what they're called & don't care enough to look it up). These groups are a none issue as they're generally disappearing rapidly due to their own failings to integrate into civilization. I'm an Alaskan native, so I grew up around these types. They generally aren't anti-White like other redskins so if anything we'd probably have a peaceful coexistence with them. It's also surprisingly rare for either group to find the other attractive, even in Alaska where Aryan & native populations are about equal.

Aside from them, the "descendants of Atlantis" generally avoid anything cold. The only reason migrants go to places like Sweden is because of their very enticing welfare systems & anti-White migration policies. I don't think I've ever met a Black person that wanted to even visit Alaska. If it comes down to White Zionism, we should probably congregate up north in Scandinavia, Alaska, & Northern Canada. Really anywhere north of NYC away from major population centers that fly in non-White invaders deliberately. If we must form White enclaves, it will be in the rural Nordlands.

In conclusion, Aryans are here to stay. Even if we keep losing for the next thousand years, there will still be Whites to carry the torch. When the tide turns, when Kali Yuga comes to it's violent end, perhaps these Aryans will once more descend from the north & conquer the world, as they did thousands of years ago. Time will tell, but hopefully System Collapse happens first to speed up the Great Aryan Revival.
